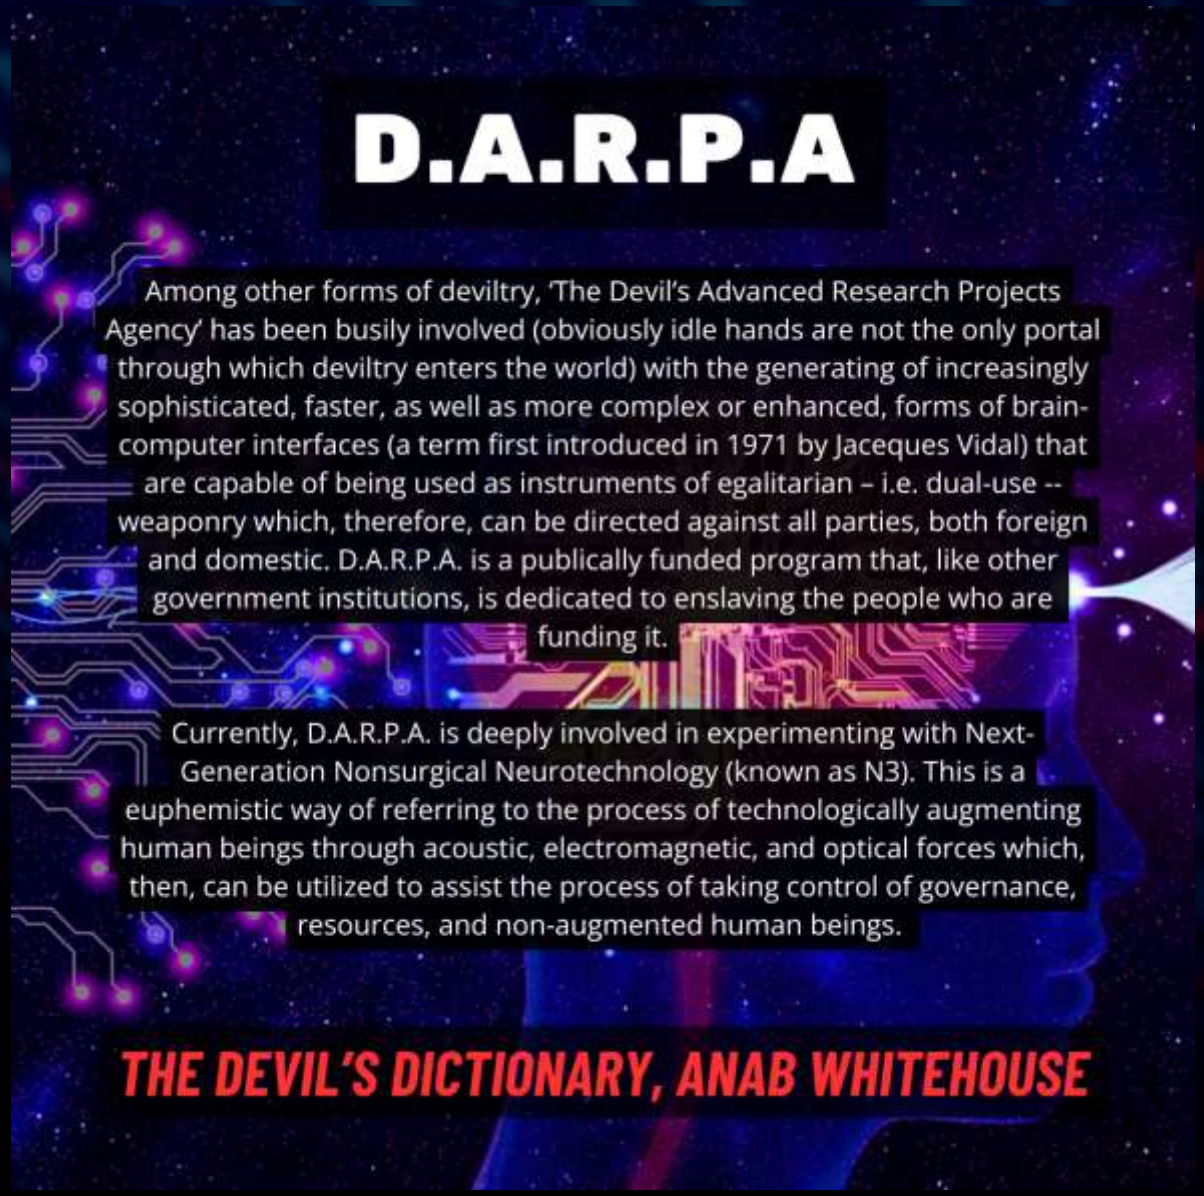
Devil’s Dictionary (Definitions by Anab Whitehouse) + Human Husbandry Technology

Text Box



D.A.R.P.A
Among other forms of deviltry, 'The Devil's Advanced Research Projects Agency' has been busily involved (obviously idle hands are not the only portal through which deviltry enters the world) with the generating of increasingly sophisticated, faster, as well as more complex or enhanced, forms of brain-computer interfaces (a term first introduced in 1971 by Jaceques Vidal) that are capable of being used as instruments of egalitarian – i.e. dual-use -- weaponry which, therefore, can be directed against all parties, both foreign and domestic. D.A.R.P.A. is a publically funded program that, like other government institutions, is dedicated to enslaving the people who are funding it.
Currently, D.A.R.P.A. is deeply involved in experimenting with Next-Generation Nonsurgical Neurotechnology (known as N3). This is a euphemistic way of referring to the process of technologically augmenting human beings through acoustic, electromagnetic, and optical forces which, then, can be utilized to assist the process of taking control of governance, resources, and non-augmented human beings.

DERIVATIVES
These are weapons of mass destruction; Derivatives are a framework for parsing everything into packages of tranches and truncheons of financial worth that are devoid of moral value.

ENERGY HARVESTING
(VAMPIRE PROJECT)
Vampire Project – This is a technology that enables a network, system, corporation, institution, medical practitioner, or government agency to harvest energy from a human being's biofield in order to electrically subsidize or power that: Network's, system's, corporation's, institution's, medical practitioner's or government agency's hacking of other facets of a person's biological terrain. The notion of energy harvesting also refers to the capacity to use energy from human beings as a means of mining crypto-currency -- with, or without, the consent of the individual whose energy is being harvested.

FACT CHECKERS
These are people who are enamored with their own set of biases, prejudices, agendas, presuppositions, and blind spots. Fact checkers are individuals who use the political, religious, and philosophical lenses which frame their way of engaging questions of facticity in a manner that tips the hermeneutical scales in their own favor when applied to such questions.

FCC
FEDERAL COMMUNICATION COMMISSION
The agency which claims to be protecting human beings against injurious forms of radiation but doesn't seem to understand the difference between ionizing and non-ionizing radiation or the nature of the damaging effects that both kinds of radiation have on the human body because of the FCC's failure to sincerely communicate and engage in a dialogue with people that actually have done the research on such issues (e.g., Arthur Firstenberg, Samuel Milham, Josh Del Sol, Beverly Rubik, Mark Steel, Olle Johansson, Daniel Debaun, and Martin Pall). The federal regulatory agency known as FCC has been captured by the corporate advocates of wireless transmission, and, in the process, has given those institutions, organizations, agencies, and corporations, a clean bill of health with respect to the dynamics of wireless transmission despite, apparently, not understanding (or caring about) the dual-use nature of that phenomenon.

FEDERAL RESERVE
This is a private banking consortium that: (a) Used underhanded and duplicitous tactics to gain control of the financial system in 1913; (b) bows to the likes and dislikes of the International Bank of Settlements, an organization which is beyond the reach of law or fairness ... qualities which often also often characterize member banking systems, including the Federal Reserve; (c) funds all sides of wars to make money and create the sort of indebtedness through which it controls governments and citizens; (d) operates on a basis in which money it does not have is lent out at interest it does not deserve; (e) continually resists being properly audited; (f) has proven to be completely ineffectual in preventing the very kind of financial problems it was allegedly created to solve; and, (g) for more than a century, has proceeded to wield its power in ways which are economically, financially, politically, legally, and socially detrimental to the American people, and among these ways of wielding power is its unwillingness to help create the sort of public banking system (e.g., see the work of Ellen Brown and Muhammad Yunus) which would be beneficial to citizens (both individually and collectively) but fails to do so because satisfying its lust for money and control is far more important to the Federal Reserve system than is the sovereignty of the people that it claims to serve.
THE DEVIL'S DICTIONARY, ANAB WHITEHOUSE

FULL SPECTRUM DOMINANCE
This is the goal of all entities, institutions, organizations, and forms of government that seek to suppress, oppress, or eliminate the existence of sovereignty, irrespective of whether, or not, sovereignty is considered individually or collectively. Since every dimension of existential space is considered to be a potential entry point for the emergence of sovereignty -- or information concerning sovereignty -- then, power brokers believe that unless full spectrum dominance is exercised over all actual or potential portals for that sort of activity and/or information, then, those who seek to exercise full spectrum dominance consider themselves and their system to be at risk. Full spectrum dominance is to engage in continuous forms of tyranny and terrorism because the possibility that some facet of sovereignty might surface can never be dismissed.

GRAPHENE
This is not a naturally-occurring biological material. However, this substance was experimentally demonstrated to exist in 2004 and evidence for its natural, geological occurrence has been found in rock formations that are 3.2 billion years old.
It consists of a honeycomb (hexagonal) latticework of carbon atoms with diameters that are approximately a third of a nanometer thick. Graphene is conceived of as a 2D material that is considered to possess width and length but has negligible depth.
This material is highly impenetrable. Not even the smallest atom (helium, not hydrogen, has the smallest atomic radius) can permeate through graphene.
Graphene is lighter than aluminum but more rugged than steel. It is more elastic than rubber but harder than diamonds. It has 13 times the electrical conductivity of copper, while the mobility of electrons within graphene is 100 times faster than within silicon.
Magnetism is not an inherent property of graphene. Nonetheless, it has the capacity to borrow, or participate in, the magnetic fields of nearby materials, and, in addition, by manipulating systems of electrons in the appropriate manner, one can created magnetic domains within graphene.
Nanographene has been found (e.g., David Nixon, La Quinta Columna, Ana Mihalcea) in a variety of COVID-19 mRNA treatment vials. While the presence of such a toxic potential in alleged public health treatments might be music to the ears of some, nonetheless, the presence of graphene-related toxicity conflicts with the principle of: "First, do no harm" which used to govern medical activities but now is often no longer required as a condition for such practice.

"IN THE IMAGE OF GOD"
This is a phrase that is often used to distort the nature of one's relationship with reality. It is a turn of phrase that does not make reference to a reflection of Divinity but, instead, refers to the manner in which the potential of certain manifested realities have been creatively organized by God to generate an essential potential that is rarely realized.

This is a process that transfers money – both directly and indirectly -- to the military-industrial complex; a system which transduces private assets into public liabilities.

GLOBAL INFORMATION GRID
A network-centric system established by the Department of Defense to acquire any, and all, information that would help to sustain and/or improve the capacity of the military to wage war against all enemies, both foreign and domestic. How that acquired information is interpreted, understood, or used, and whether, or not, one should trust the quality of such information, and whether, or not, war should be waged, and whether, or not, there are better alternatives to war are not issues which the GIG network is capable of resolving.
Having an informational advantage is not enough. One must also have an advantage in knowledge, understanding, as well as wisdom in relation to such information. Determining what the criteria are for identifying and, then, being able to justify such a process of determination with respect to the latter sorts of advantage tends to generate a very complicated set of issues and an accompanying set of fundamental questions concerning the nature of the relationship between human beings and reality.

NEW PANOPTICON
In an essay on this topic, Jeremy Bentham argued that the best form of a prison would be one in which: (a) prisoner cells would be open to a central tower into which prisoners could not see and, therefore, the prisoners would never know whether, or not, the tower was being occupied with people who were observing the prisoners and, in addition, (b) prisoners would not be permitted to interact with one another. Bentham considered the Panopticon to be an ideal template for how society, in general, ought to work.

PLASMONICS

This is a field of study which explores, and seeks applications for, the physical phenomena which occur on a nanoscale in conjunction with the interface of particular kinds of metals and dielectrics (materials that serve as electrical insulators which become polarized when exposed to an electrical field and, among other things, can enhance capacitance or energy storage in electronic circuits). A plasmon is a quantum of plasma oscillation, and plasmonics explores the properties of such plasma oscillations and how they can be manipulated on the nanoscale.

These coherent oscillations are associated with electromagnetic waves that exist along the nanoscale interface that juxtaposes a dielectric and a metal. Various metals have different plasmonics properties, and artificially designed nonporous metals have an array of plasmonics properties.

Plasmonics has potential ramification for bio-photonics. Consequently, not only does plasmonics carry possible applications for such fields of study as optogenetics (the use of light to turn genes on and off), but, as well, it raises questions as to how, and to what extent, bio-photonics and plasmonics might adversely affect or suppress the health of a person's biofield.

POLITICIAN(S)

Members of a parasitic class who pretend to be public servants while expecting the public to be their servants. These are individuals who are well-versed in the process of de-stabilizing society through the checks and balances of: Delusions, illusions, subterfuge, rationalizations, and self-serving duplicity.

[TO] HACK

Verb -- The process of seeking to gain unelicited access to a network, system, computer, electronic device, or person in order to compromise, alter, manipulate, or pilfer some aspect of the operational integrity of that network, system, computer, electronic device, or person. Examples: Government; education; medicine; corporate activity; intelligence operations; the media, and military force. Noun – The entity which makes hacking possible and is often characterized by a moral incompetence that is lost sight of amidst the dazzling lights which frequently are given off by the presence of some degree of technical skill.

AI

ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE

A system of logic-like coding based on assumptions, biases, and arbitrary ideas concerning the nature of any given topic that enables computations to be made mindlessly at light-like speeds, and, in the process, generate obfuscating data as to whether one is dealing with properties of 'garbage in' and/or 'garbage out.' A technology that is designed to extinguish a person's right to informed consent and sovereignty.

AUTONOMOUS WEAPONS SYSTEMS

The Department of Defense directive 3000.09 turns over decisions involving the use of injurious and lethal force to processes that have been designed by people with questionable character and whose understanding concerning notions of "peace," "truth," "reason," "justice," and "sovereignty" are filled with epistemological and moral lacunae that have been passed on to the autonomous weapon systems.

THE DEVIL'S DICTIONARY, ANAB WHITEHOUSE

BAIL-IN

The new form of bail-out in which banks no longer look to the government to be made whole again due to the financial mismanagement or the many improprieties that are inherent in the banking system but, instead, those institutions have been empowered by the government to abscond with the deposits of its unsecured creditors – i.e., general customers -- should the need arise to do so.

BIODIGITAL CONVERGENCE
A dynamic through which greed, the desire for control, and psychopathy come together in a harmonious fashion by imposing (forcefully if necessary) artificial, synthetic non-living digital technologies onto natural, organic living systems of life for purposes of creating hybrid entities that are imprinted with an imperative to eliminate or subjugate all non-hybrid entities.

BIOFIELD
This is a vibrant, powerful, multi-dimensional human resource which is crucial to life and is the possession of the individual who gives expression to that biofield. Those who have corruptible, vested interests have made unilateral declarations which claim that biofields constitute a legitimate target for economic, political, medical, social, legal, and scientific exploitation irrespective of the wishes of the individual to whom the biofield belongs. The biofield is a resource that is mined by forces of biological colonialism and biological imperialism that seek to justify their invasion, exploitation, suppression, and extinction of the biofield as being a revolutionary way of overthrowing principles that stand in the way of someone's morally-challenged notion of economic, political, medical, and technological progress.

BLOCKCHAIN
A money-laundering system; a method for inducing human beings to become enrolled in: (1) A distributed, ledger system that: Cannot justify the systems of valuation which use such a ledger system; (2) a digital system which enables banks, governments, corporations, and individuals to be able to keep both laudatory and questionable aspects of their activities hidden; (3) a system that is incapable of existing independently of sources of energy that are needed to maintain it (if the grid goes down, then so does the ledger system); (4) a system which has the potential for enabling the harvesting of human energy as a way of anonymously mining crypto value even if humans do not wish to be harvested in this fashion; and, (5) system that is as artificial a framework as fiat currency is with respect to the process of establishing a basis for the generation of "sound money" that cannot be manipulated (that is, bid up and down in value).

PROJECT SALUS

This is a data-driven analysis of the purported effectiveness of mRNA treatments against the delta variant of SARS CoV-2. However, given that no one has provided credible and reliable evidence that SARS-CoV-2 (in any of its alleged variant forms) actually exists (see the work of Andy Kaufman, Tom Cowan, Stefan Lanka, as well as Sam and Mark Bailey) and, therefore, one cannot demonstrate that mRNA treatments are effective in countering non-existent viruses, or their variants, then, Project Salus begins at no credible beginning and works toward no credible end.

TARGETED INDIVIDUALS

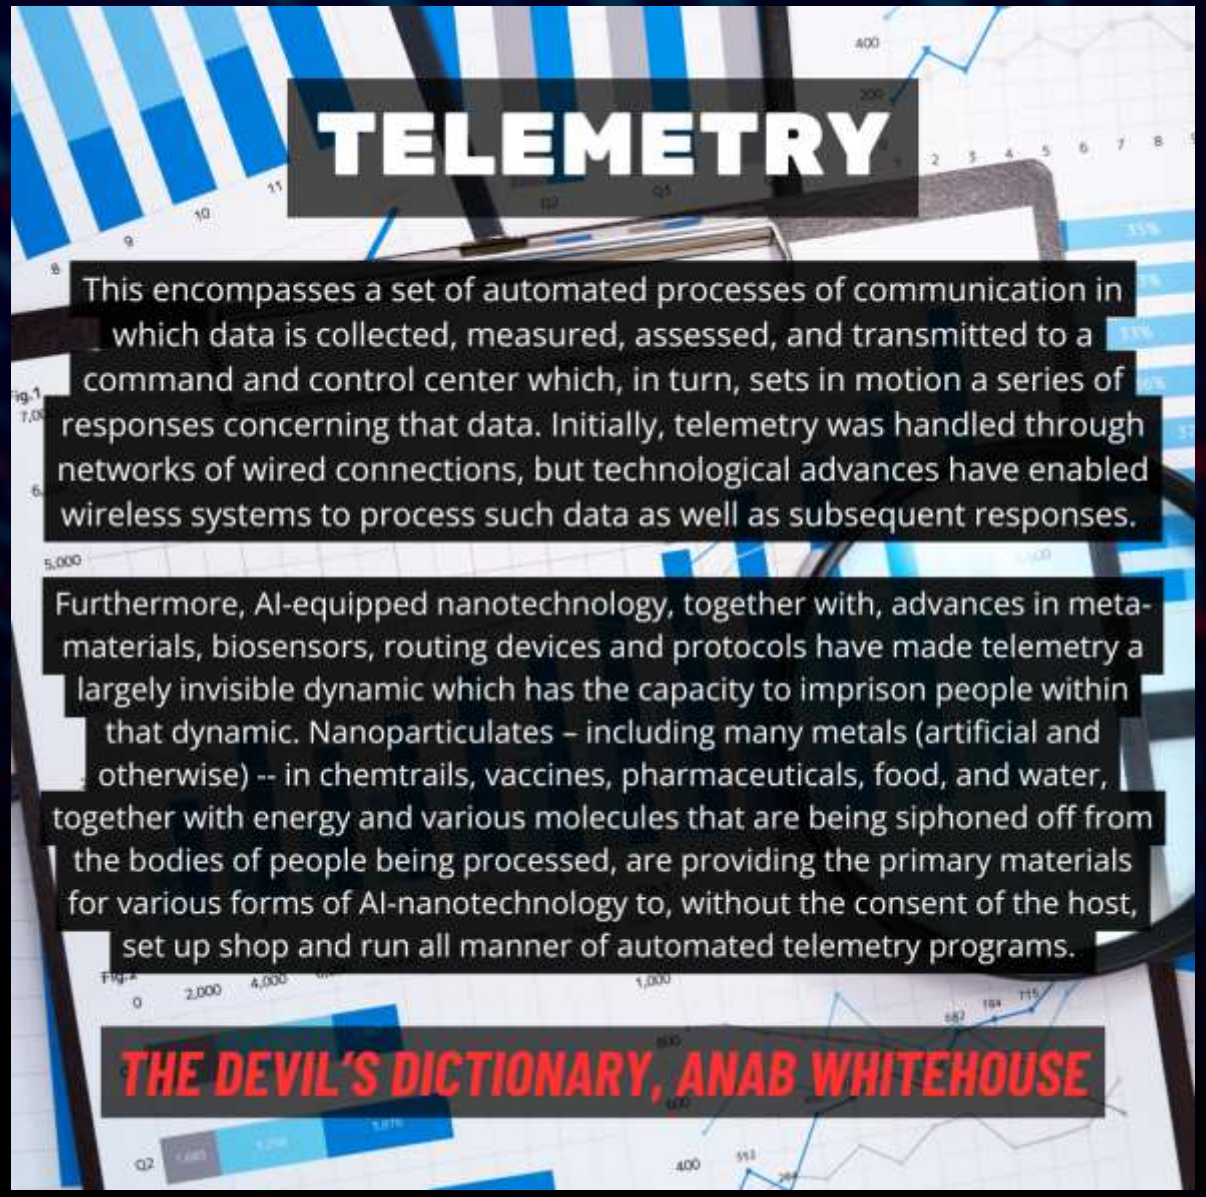
There are tens of thousands of targeted individuals in the United States. There are hundreds of thousands, if not millions, of targeted individuals in other parts of the world.

Targeted individuals are people who have lost control of large swaths of their physical, psychological, emotional, social, and economic lives as a result of the way in which their phenomenology and biology have been hacked by natural, and self-made, psychopaths through the application of the technologies, techniques, and programs which are being outlined in this document.

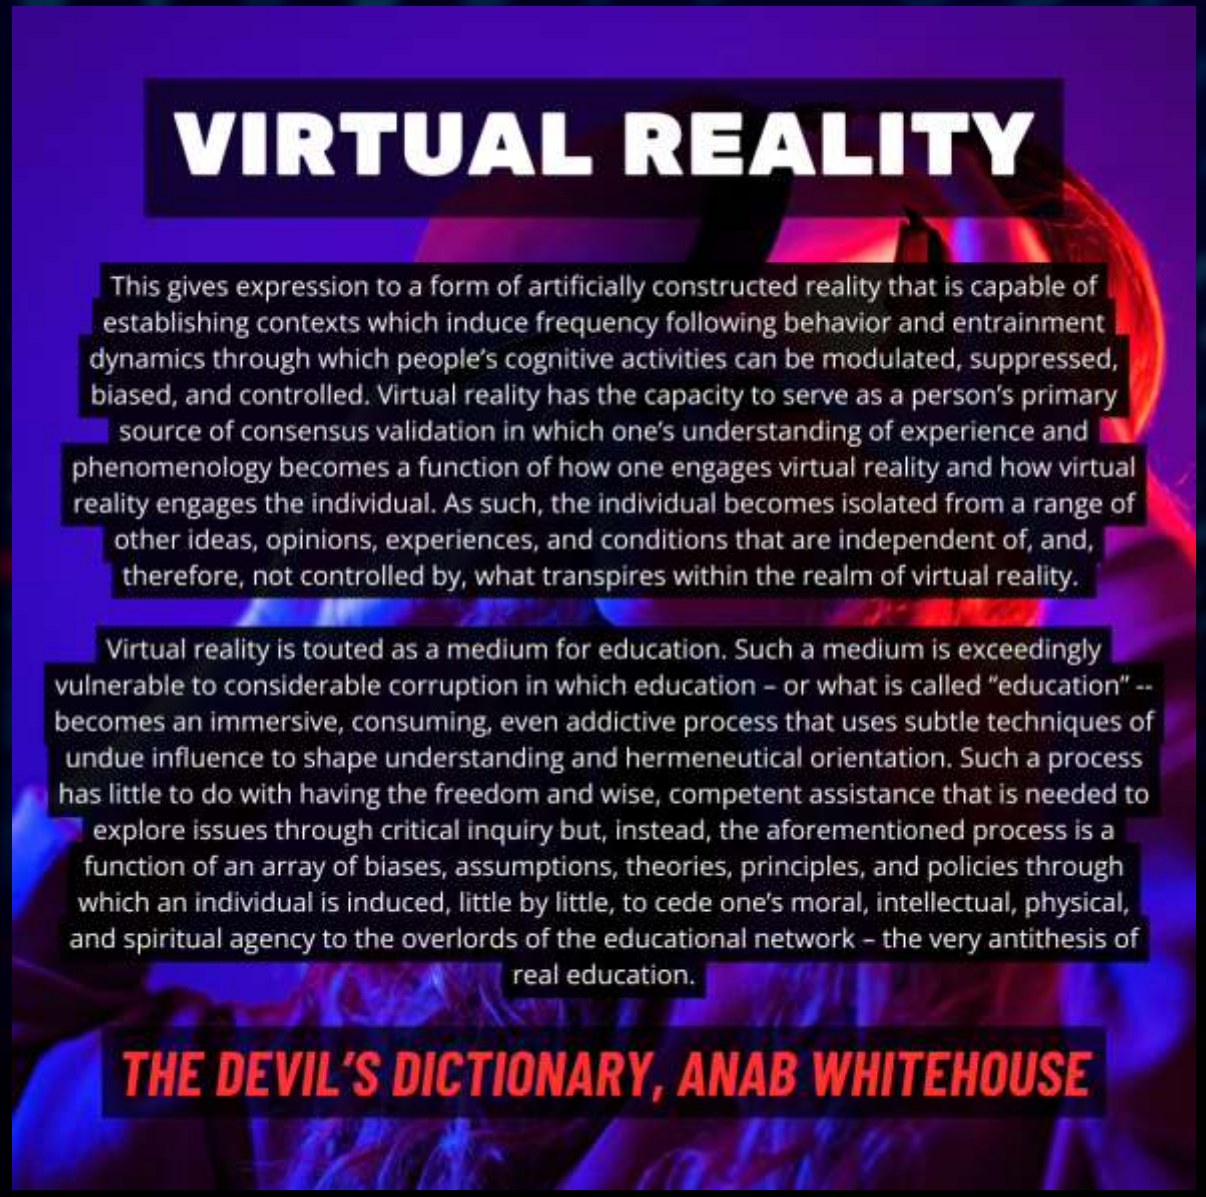
That to which allusions are being made through the different entries which appear before and following the present entry is not a conspiracy theory or a flight of fantasy. Rather, what is being described are the nuts and bolts of a terrorist campaign into which millions of people have been unwilling abducted and who through no fault of their own have been selected to serve as beta tests for the rest of us.

As is, sometimes, said in the military: "Be advised." The Havana Syndrome is just the tip of the iceberg, and many governments are involved in these acts of terrorism.

THE DEVIL'S DICTIONARY, ANAB WHITEHOUSE



TELEMETRY
This encompasses a set of automated processes of communication in which data is collected, measured, assessed, and transmitted to a command and control center which, in turn, sets in motion a series of responses concerning that data. Initially, telemetry was handled through networks of wired connections, but technological advances have enabled wireless systems to process such data as well as subsequent responses.
Furthermore, AI-equipped nanotechnology, together with, advances in meta-materials, biosensors, routing devices and protocols have made telemetry a largely invisible dynamic which has the capacity to imprison people within that dynamic. Nanoparticulates – including many metals (artificial and otherwise) -- in chemtrails, vaccines, pharmaceuticals, food, and water, together with energy and various molecules that are being siphoned off from the bodies of people being processed, are providing the primary materials for various forms of AI-nanotechnology to, without the consent of the host, set up shop and run all manner of automated telemetry programs.
THE DEVIL'S DICTIONARY, ANAB WHITEHOUSE



VIRTUAL REALITY
This gives expression to a form of artificially constructed reality that is capable of establishing contexts which induce frequency following behavior and entrainment dynamics through which people's cognitive activities can be modulated, suppressed, biased, and controlled. Virtual reality has the capacity to serve as a person's primary source of consensus validation in which one's understanding of experience and phenomenology becomes a function of how one engages virtual reality and how virtual reality engages the individual. As such, the individual becomes isolated from a range of other ideas, opinions, experiences, and conditions that are independent of, and, therefore, not controlled by, what transpires within the realm of virtual reality.
Virtual reality is touted as a medium for education. Such a medium is exceedingly vulnerable to considerable corruption in which education – or what is called "education" -- becomes an immersive, consuming, even addictive process that uses subtle techniques of undue influence to shape understanding and hermeneutical orientation. Such a process has little to do with having the freedom and wise, competent assistance that is needed to explore issues through critical inquiry but, instead, the aforementioned process is a function of an array of biases, assumptions, theories, principles, and policies through which an individual is induced, little by little, to cede one's moral, intellectual, physical, and spiritual agency to the overlords of the educational network – the very antithesis of real education.
THE DEVIL'S DICTIONARY, ANAB WHITEHOUSE

WBAN

WIRELESS BODY AREA NETWORK

This is a surveillance system which provides a continuous stream of monitored data concerning what takes place: Within, on, and around a given biological domain, including cognitive and behavioral activity. To whatever extent such a system is used without informed consent, then, to that extent, WBAN is an expression of transhumanist, post-humanist, technocratic, and/or oppressive forms of surveillance. To whatever extent such a system interferes with, undermines, adversely affects, injures, or overrides a person's bodily sovereignty, then, to that extent, WBAN is a tool of transhumanist, post-humanist, technocratic, and/or oppressive forms of surveillance. To whatever extent such a system is used to induce a person to be, or become, controlled by an external source of political, social, economic, financial, medical, technological, and/or military control, then, to that extent the WBAN system is a manipulative and transformative policy program that is shaped by transhumanist, post-humanist, technocratic, and/or oppressive forms of surveillance. To whatever extent such a system is used to track, trace, herd, or terminate individuals, then, to that extent, WBAN is a transhumanist, post-humanist, technocratic, and/or oppressive form of surveillance agenda.

The WBAN is never value-neutral. It is always a function of the hermeneutical context which governs how, when, where, and why it is being used and deployed.

YOU

You are the intended target of the many kinds of technologies, networks, programs, policies, protocols, and standards which have been outlined, and commented on, in this document. Do your best to extricate yourself from all political, legal, educational, medical, scientific, technical, social, and religious networks that seek to reduce you to being nothing but a node on a network in which one is subject to the operational constraints and degrees of freedom of such networks rather than being able to exercise God-given sovereignty.

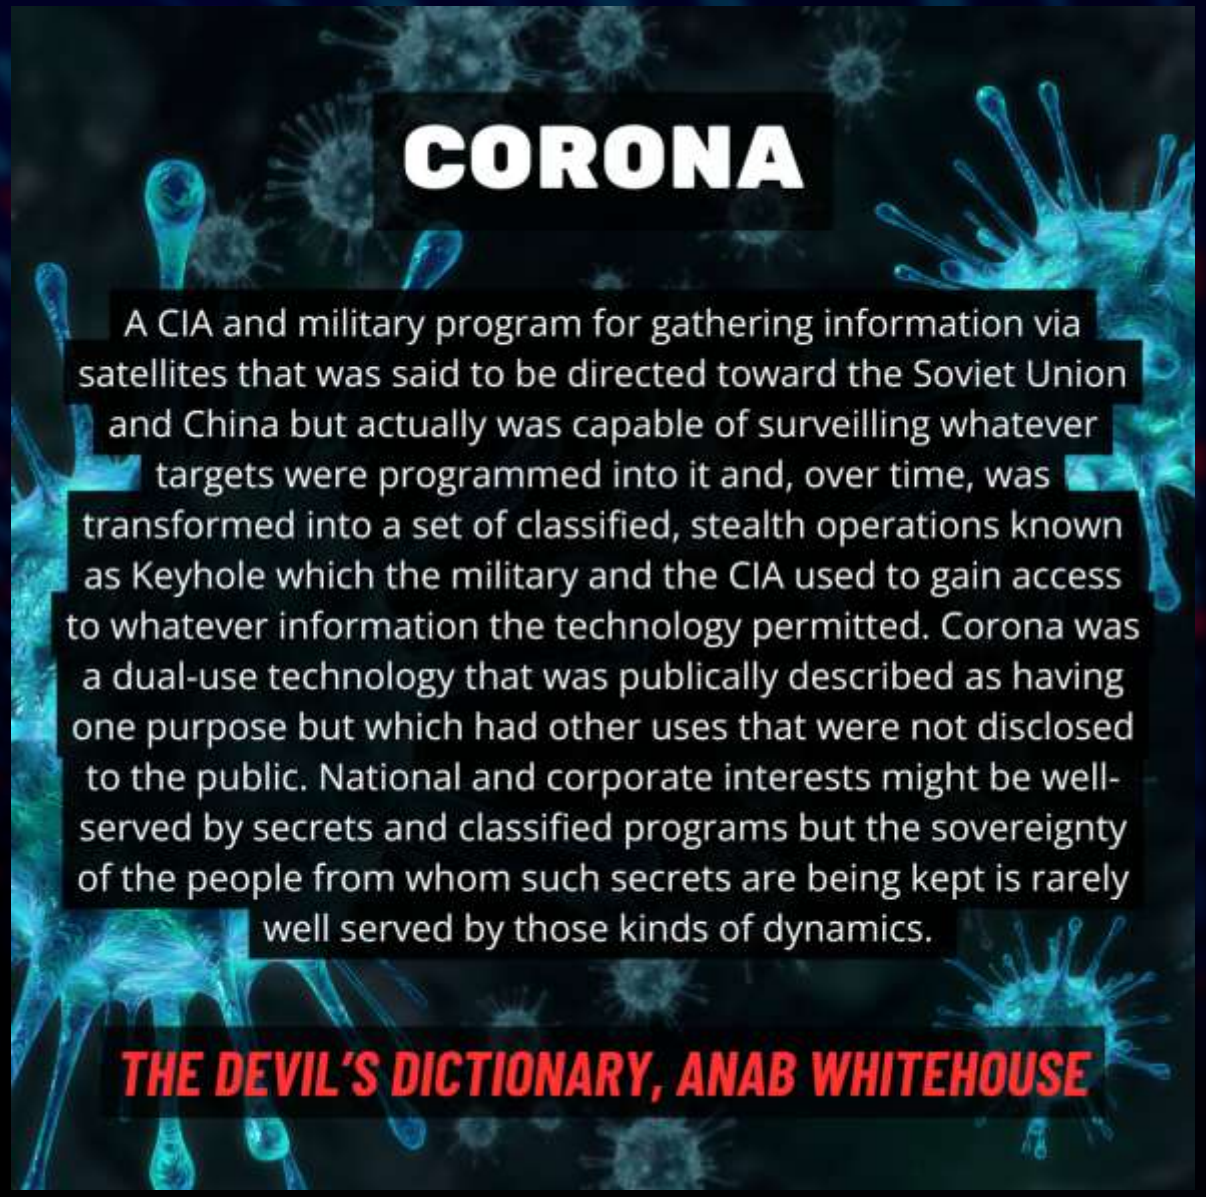
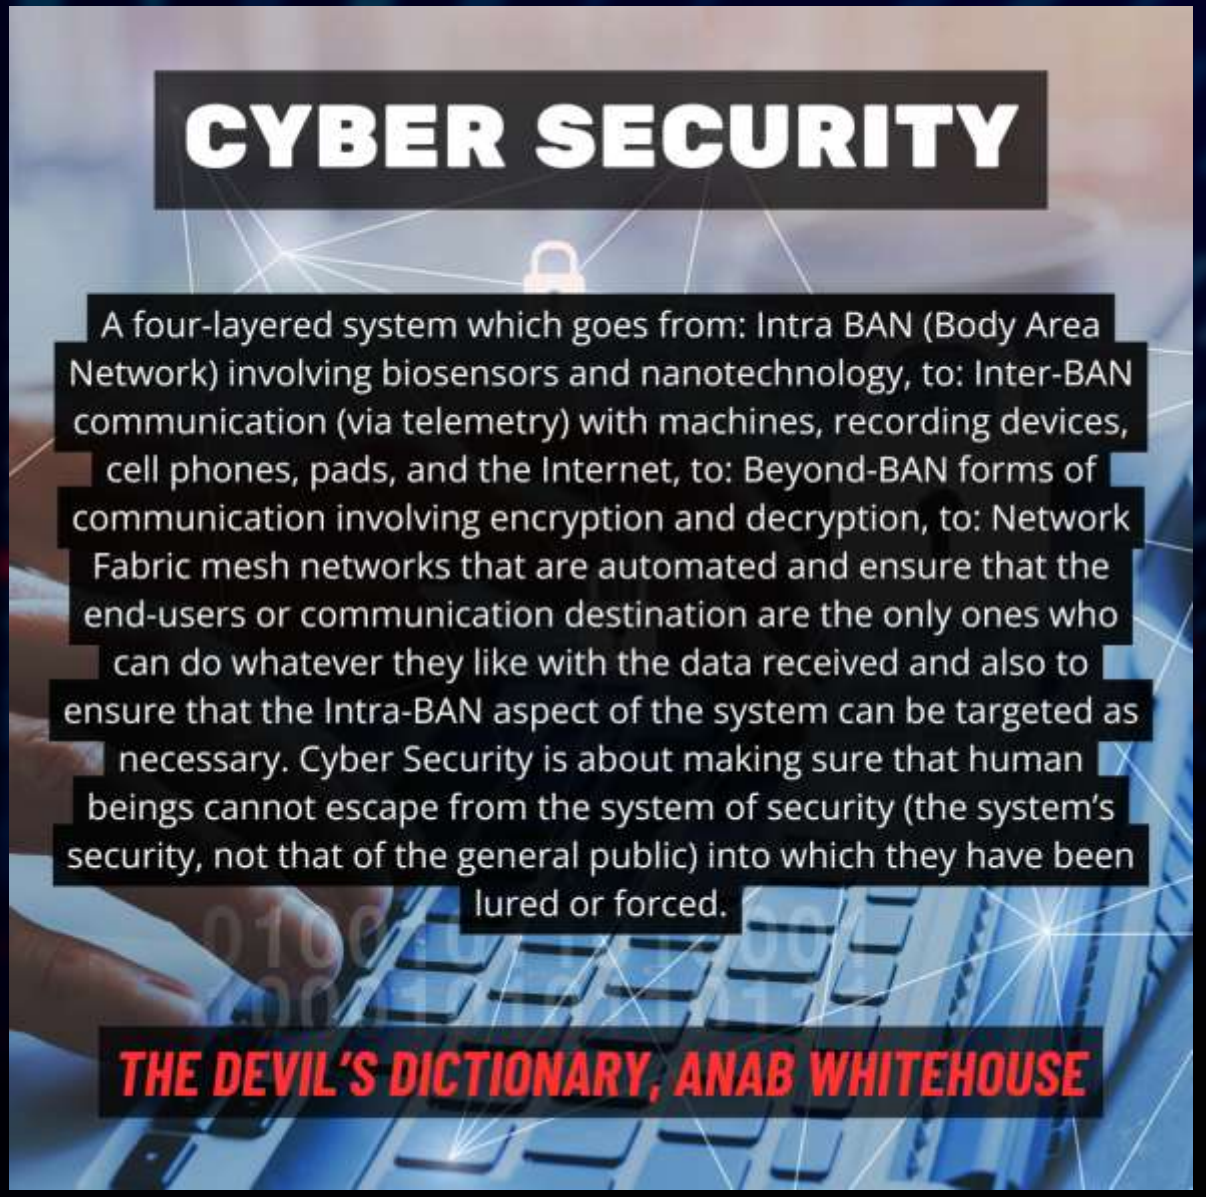
CONSENSUAL VALIDATION
This is a process in which people seek the opinions of others (a consensus) in order to arrive at an understanding (validation) concerning some aspect of experience. However, when the information, opinions, ideas, thoughts, and data which other people have to offer is problematic, misguided, insincere, self-serving, and so on, then, one must be careful not to cede one's agency to forms of framing the perceptual process which are rooted in compromised forms of consensual validation. Consensual validation is only of value when the information one receives is reliable and credible.
THE DEVIL'S DICTIONARY, ANAB WHITEHOUSE



CORONA
A CIA and military program for gathering information via satellites that was said to be directed toward the Soviet Union and China but actually was capable of surveilling whatever targets were programmed into it and, over time, was transformed into a set of classified, stealth operations known as Keyhole which the military and the CIA used to gain access to whatever information the technology permitted. Corona was a dual-use technology that was publically described as having one purpose but which had other uses that were not disclosed to the public. National and corporate interests might be well-served by secrets and classified programs but the sovereignty of the people from whom such secrets are being kept is rarely well served by those kinds of dynamics.
THE DEVIL'S DICTIONARY, ANAB WHITEHOUSE



CYBER SECURITY
A four-layered system which goes from: Intra BAN (Body Area Network) involving biosensors and nanotechnology, to: Inter-BAN communication (via telemetry) with machines, recording devices, cell phones, pads, and the Internet, to: Beyond-BAN forms of communication involving encryption and decryption, to: Network Fabric mesh networks that are automated and ensure that the end-users or communication destination are the only ones who can do whatever they like with the data received and also to ensure that the Intra-BAN aspect of the system can be targeted as necessary. Cyber Security is about making sure that human beings cannot escape from the system of security (the system's security, not that of the general public) into which they have been lured or forced.
THE DEVIL'S DICTIONARY, ANAB WHITEHOUSE

DIGITAL TWIN

A digitized model that is built from acquiring data involving certain physical, emotional, and cognitive feature values associated with a human being, and, then, acting on those values – in best voodoo fashion – the operators of the Digital Twin alters, injures, exploits, shapes, sickens, controls, or kills the existential original from which the Digital Twin data was derived. Digital Twins are derivatives in the sense that they give expression to ways of generating data sets which, for purposes of financial gain or political control, involve organizing and manipulating information concerning an underlying set of values or assets ... i.e., human beings.

THE DEVIL'S DICTIONARY, ANAB WHITEHOUSE

DNA STEGANOGRAPHY

This is a branding technology (e.g., using variable regions of a genome such as single nucleotide morphisms) which is capable of inserting messages, barcodes, and watermarks (intellectual property rights) into the DNA of an organism in such a manner that the presence of the information cannot be detected unless appropriately decrypted and, thereby, indicate – or, so the corporate or institutional legal argument goes -- that the organism is the property of the brander.

THE DEVIL'S DICTIONARY, ANAB WHITEHOUSE

ELECTROMAGNETIC COMMUNICATION

One of the ways in which cells, tissues, and organisms communicate with each other via the biofield is through electromagnetic communication, and all forms of synthetic electromagnetic signals tend to interfere with such forms of biological communication in one way or another. One of the gravest and most imminent threats to life on Earth is not a function of the contrived threats concerning the non-existent crises of global warming but a function of the uncontrolled and improperly regulated introduction of all manner of synthetic forms of electromagnetism that are being pushed onto the world ecologies – especially so-called "smart" forms of such electromagnetism that are being introduced without the consent of those on whom they are impinging – by people who are suffering from a form of willful blindness that ignores the damage which they are inflicting on the world due to an apparently insatiable desire for money, control, and a lurid pleasure which is derived through inducing pain and injury in others.

THE DEVIL'S DICTIONARY, ANAB WHITEHOUSE

EMERGENT TECHNOLOGY

The term that is used to camouflage the fact that what is said to be forthcoming at some point in the future is, actually, already present, operational, and adversely affecting our lives.

EPIGENETICS

Refers to the dynamics that determine what, when, how, where, for how long, and in what sequence genes are expressed. Neither transhumanists nor technocrats understand those dynamics except in extremely limited ways and, yet, both groups of epistemologically challenged individuals want to suppress the manner in which nature has gone about the process of gene expression for thousands of years and which has helped human beings to survive amidst substantial changes in the environment. Instead, such groups insist on substituting their own agenda for the expression of genes, and many – if not most -- of those modalities of substitution are either injurious or lethal to human beings in any number of ways.

THE DEVIL'S DICTIONARY, ANAB WHITEHOUSE

FDIC

FEDERAL DEPOSITORS INSURANCE CORPORATION

This is the government agency which promises to cover all losses due to insolvency of the banking system but which has an extremely limited capacity to do so and, therefore, such promises mislead the public about the extent of the help that it can provide in times of emergency. The FDIC's promise relative to the foregoing problem is like bringing a squirt gun to the site of a thermonuclear explosion and expecting full resolution concerning the latter problem.

DRONES (NANO)

Although Nano Hummingbirds and Snipe Nanos -- which combine: Experimental wing architecture, software programming advances, and battery design breakthroughs to create Unmanned Aerial Systems -- were developed nearly a decade ago by D.A.R.P.A. and the military for purposes of reconnaissance, surveillance, and situational awareness, the new generation of drones are in the form of self-assembling nanobots that fly about, and within, the enemy like swarms of molecular structures that are undetected until it is too late, and the target lists for such drones have been expanded to include the general public.

THE DEVIL'S DICTIONARY, ANAB WHITEHOUSE

5G TECHNOLOGY

This technology was touted as a way to increase the speed of downloads and streaming, as well as to reduce latency intervals [the time it takes for a packet of data (say a request or gaming move) to make the round trip from one's computer to the aspect of the Internet from which one wants some sort of response and, then, back to one's computer.] In addition, one of the alleged advantages was the way in which 5G supposedly would enable a greater connectivity among all electronic devices, computers, and the Internet relative to 4G networks.

Aside from asking whether, or not, having greater connectivity is necessarily a good thing (e.g., what adverse impacts might 5G have on problems surrounding the way in which digital identification is a tool of oppression, control, and security for those who have power), one might also inquire into whether, or not, the ways in which 5G is going to connect people (medically, politically, economically, socially, epistemologically, and educationally) is necessarily desirable, as well as, whether, or not, the problematic kinds of biological effects that can be documented to be caused by 5G radiation (not only in relation to human beings but with respect to the environment as a whole) are worth the technological advances which 5G makes possible.

THE DEVIL'S DICTIONARY, ANAB WHITEHOUSE

BODY AREA NETWORK

A context that wirelessly embeds nucleic acids and other bio-molecules into an electronic framework in which all dimensions of that dynamic operate in accordance with the principle of "see something, say something" and, then, use prefabricated or self-assembling forms of telemetry to transmit that surveillance to external data bases of dubious provenance. Body Area Network is a process for organizing human beings -- both individually and collectively -- into sets of nodes that are linked together according to the medical, political, economic, and social philosophies of the people who have appointed themselves as regulatory overlords with respect to such networks.

THE DEVIL'S DICTIONARY, ANAB WHITEHOUSE

INTRA-BODY NETWORKS + MOLECULAR COMMUNICATION NETWORKS

Biological organisms or bodies have a natural network of molecular communication which often is being engaged by forms of medical practice that confuse and conflate theory with the biological realities which are being engaged. There is a tendency among all too many medical practitioners to be inclined toward imposing their theoretical ideas and hermeneutical musings about "intra-body networks and molecular communication onto" 'the actual indigenous system of intra-body networks and molecular communication', and through such a process of imposition, lead to the misdiagnosis and mistreatment (on several levels) of their patients.

THE DEVIL'S DICTIONARY, ANAB WHITEHOUSE

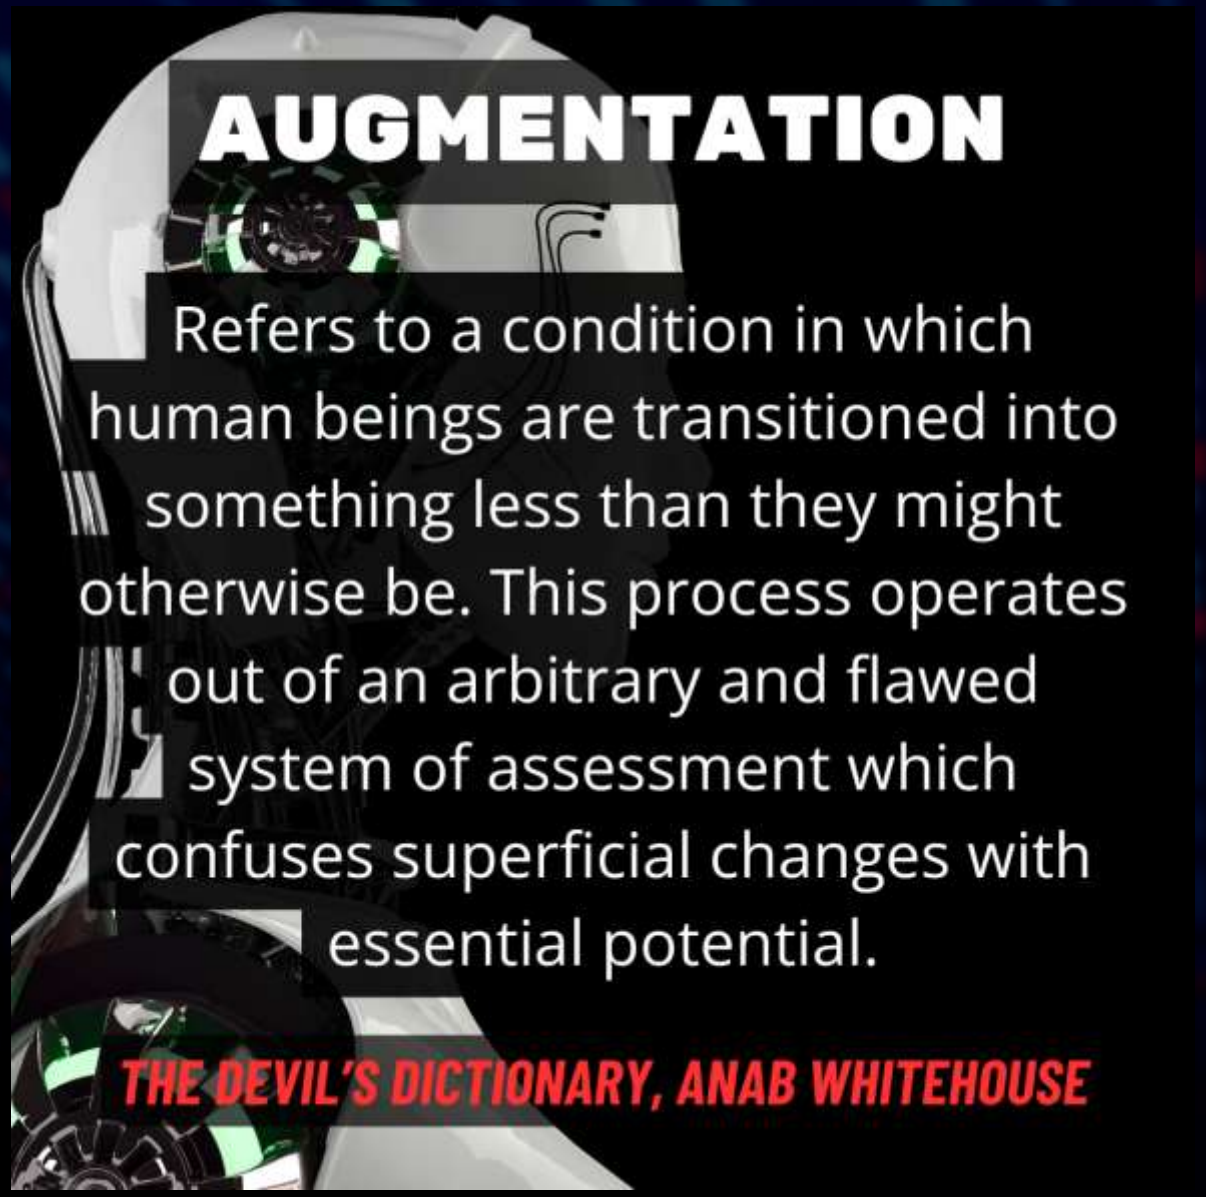
NETWORK CENTRIC WARFARE

Networks are methods for processing information. Warfare which is waged through a networkcentric dynamic makes warfare a function of such informationprocessing methods.

While part of the informational aspect of such a process depends on the activities, of technological components that, for example, are directed toward detecting, identifying, acquiring, transmitting, and storing data which arises as a result of the way in which the network engages the world, data is not really transformed into information until it is processed in various ways. Data which has not been processed beyond its being sensed, measured, recorded, transmitted, and stored has no network significance, meaning, or value and, therefore, must undergo further processing in the form of analysis.

THE DEVIL'S DICTIONARY, ANAB WHITEHOUSE

INTERNET OF THINGS
An arbitrary network of enhanced connectivity (created by electronics, computers, and forms of communication) which entails, but is not restricted to the Internet, and reduces human beings to nodes on a network whose sole function is to process the packets of bits and bytes of data being transmitted through the network according to the protocols which have been established by those who govern that network.
INTERNET OF BIO-NANO THINGS
This manner of framing experience emerged out of an attempt to allegedly address how the Internet of NanoThings (IoNT) – which involves the ways in which nanoscale particles, devices, and bots both engage, and are engaged by, the world – might have potentially problematic safety and health ramifications for life on Earth. The supposed motivating orientation underlying the idea of the Internet of Bio-Nano Things is to try to find ways in which the interface among the electrical properties of the Internet, the nanoscale properties entailed by the Internet of NanoThings, and the nature of living organisms can be reconciled in safe and efficient ways.
INTERNET OF MEDICAL THINGS
This gives expression to four areas of activity involving: (a) Biosensors/Antennae/Routers/Actuators; (b) edge devices and analytics [automated forms of detection, computations and assessments involving data from (a) prior to being sent on for further processing at (c)]; (c) fog computing is a decentralized form of computational architecture in which different nodes on an overriding network provide real-time analysis of data [that already have been pre-processed via (b)] in accordance with the principles of a governing network architecture; (d) cloud analytics which uses cloud technology to store and apply established algorithms to search for different sorts of patterns that exist in the data that has been run through (a), (b), and (c) and which might be of value to processes involving a judicious observation of a medical practitioner's duties of care to patients.
THE DEVIL'S DICTIONARY, ANAB WHITEHOUSE



AUGMENTATION
Refers to a condition in which human beings are transitioned into something less than they might otherwise be. This process operates out of an arbitrary and flawed system of assessment which confuses superficial changes with essential potential.
THE DEVIL'S DICTIONARY, ANAB WHITEHOUSE

MEMS

MICRO-ELECTRICAL-MECHANICAL-SYSTEMS

The Inhalable Infrastructure. Often marketed as "Smart Dust," these are not merely sensors but "air molecule particulants" that function as a weaponized aerosol. They are designed to "remagnetize" and work as cohorts, effectively self-assembling into a wireless sensor network after being dispersed via aircraft (chemtrails/pollution),,. MEMS are capable of sensing light, temperature, vibration, magnetism, and chemicals, transforming the very atmosphere and the interior of the human body into a surveillance medium,. Their simulation environment is cynically referred to as "Sugar" (Sugar MEMS), masking the reality that this technology turns the environment into a hostile, monitoring entity,

MIMO

MULTI-INPUT-MULTI-OUTPUT

A method for multiplying the capacity of a radio link using multiple transmission and receiving antennas. --- The Human Tower Protocol. A communications configuration where the "antennas" are no longer just metal towers, but human beings themselves. Under the Codex Umbra, MIMO signifies "Maximum Input, Maximum Output," where the augmented human body —now a node in the 7G mesh—acts as a 5G/6G cell tower, sending and receiving data to the control grid,,. It facilitates "human antenna to human antenna" communication, turning the population into a "cell-free massive MIMO" network where individuals are harvested for data and energy, functionally replacing physical infrastructure with biological slaves.

APPLIED LINGUISTICS

The weaponization of words; fundamentally the art of sophistry, teaching how to lie to the masses convincingly. It is concerned with the purported practical applications of language study, such as teaching, translation, or speech therapy.

"The Medium IS the Message"

~ Marshall McLuhan ~

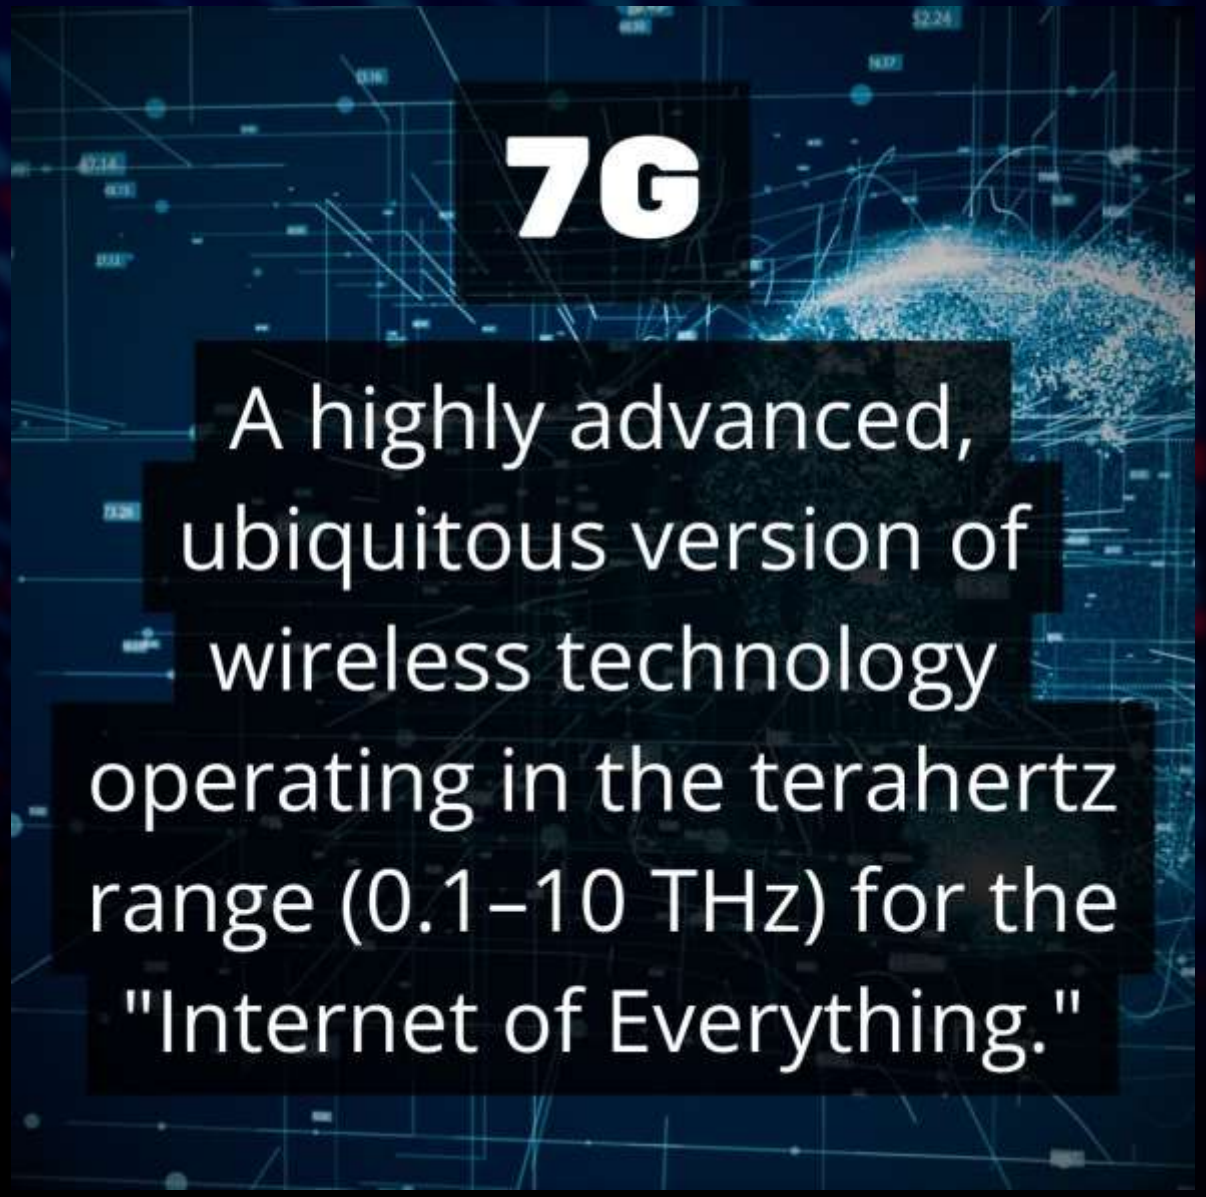
6G TECHNOLOGY

A system that is literally people. It is the mesh network platform that uses augmented human beings—now kinetic nodes and antennae through vaccination and smart dust exposure—to transmit and amplify radiation, effectively turning the populace into miniature 5G towers.

6GLoWPAN

6G Low Power Wireless Personal Area Network

The addressing system for human chattel. It allows the smallest devices (smart dust, biosensors) to have their own IP address (IPv6) and connect directly to the Internet. This technology turns the human body into a "Thing" on the Internet of Things (IoT), enabling the tracking of individuals down to their bone marrow via digital ID.



7G
A highly advanced, ubiquitous version of wireless technology operating in the terahertz range (0.1–10 THz) for the "Internet of Everything."

Terahertz (THz) Radiation

[The Frequency of the Hive]

The frequency band (0.1–10 THz) occupying the spectrum between microwaves and infrared light, specifically utilized for 6G and the Internet of Bio-Nano Things (IoBNT).

Biological Resonance: THz waves resonate with the natural vibration of biological water molecules and DNA, allowing for "Wireless Tissue Engineering" and the modification of cellular electrical homeostasis without physical contact.

The 6G Backbone: It serves as the carrier wave for the Wireless Body Area Network (WBAN), turning the human body into a transmission medium (waveguide) for high-speed data throughput.

Weaponization: Capable of forming "THz Bullets" (cymatic perturbation of air or tissue) and enabling sub-millimeter resolution "Brain Reading" RADAR to map neural activity remotely.

Clustered Regularly Interspaced Short Palindromic Repeats

Genetic Circuitry: Used to write synthetic "genetic circuits" and logical gates into human cells, effectively programming biological matter to perform computational tasks (e.g., sensing, recording, actuating).

The Kill Switch: Deployed to install "fluorescent reporters" (bioluminescent markers) inside the body, signaling the presence of specific genetic edits or infections to external surveillance systems (like drones or satellites).

Eugenics 2.0: Facilitates "Somatic Modification"—the real-time editing of the living population's genome based on data derived from Brain Imaging Libraries (BIL), transforming the human species into a managed, "patchable" software platform.

"We are making a real... artificial intelligence in everything... [CRISPR is] re-programming the 'software of life'... turning organisms into biocomputers."

JANUS PARTICLES

This term refers to objects that are on the nanoscale (billionths of a meter) or the microscale (under 1mm) which exhibit special surface properties that enable two different kinds of chemistry to take place in juxtaposition to one another. For example, two proximate areas of the surface of such particles might exhibit different magnetic properties, or one area might exhibit hydrophobic tendencies, while another, nearby area might have hydrophilic properties.

There is similar phenomenon which can occur when medical practitioners and patients share the same meta-surface of healthcare. More specifically, while engaged in the phenomenon of healthcare, the sort of biochemistry in which a medical practitioner is involved might have little to do with the biochemistry which actually exists in a patient. The healthcare system is a Janus particle in as much as it gives expression to a surface of activity in which different kinds of often conflicting kinds of chemistry can be observed to take place while in juxtaposition to one another.
